Report of School Board.

The School Board of Wakefield are pleased to report that there has been during the year a marked advancement and improvement in the schools. Our teachers have labored faithfully and well and thereby promoted an interest which ensured the success attained.

It will be noticed on examining the reports of last year that we have been able with about the same amount of money to give the district five more weeks of schooling; this was accomplished by decreasing the wages of the teachers, which decrea e has in nowise lessened their interest in the schools. The greatest fault we find is a tendency on the part of the teachers, encouraged by the parents, to advance the pupils too rapidly.

Early in the year we introduced Rhetorical exercises in all the schools. This at first met with considerable opposition on the part of pupils and teachers, but as they became more interested the advantage of the exercises became apparent, and we find that it has been a great benefit to the pupils in giving them confidence in themselves, making them better readers and removing that diffidence which many of us have found so embarassing.

The lack of interest which the pupils manifested in the study of grammar and their utter carelessness of the same suggested to the board the need of a change in the text-books on this study. For many years Swinton's English Grammar has been in use in our schools, and a short time ago a few copies in Hyde's Lessons in English were purchased. After careful examination we introduced in their place Metcalf's English Grammar, a work published in 1894, which has produced a more thorough understanding and gratifying improvement. The board has also introduced Johonot and Bouton's lessons in Hygiene for the use of the younger pupils.
